

Your partnership can make a difference!

For 10 years, Kids Alive Kenya has been providing holistic care for orphans and at-risk children in a country ravaged by poverty and the HIV/AIDS crisis. Today, this care meets the educational, nutritional, and medical needs of more than 650 Kenyan children. Most of our children come from the very poorest living conditions and many struggled to obtain even one meal a day prior to their enrollment in our programs. Here is how you can make a difference for kids and families during the extraordinary challenges of the locust invasion on top of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Crisis

The coronavirus and its effects on economic systems have changed almost every facet of life, and the people of Kenya have felt the strain in many ways. Access to food is limited, prices are rising, and jobs are scarce. And when families are using every available penny to purchase food, there is nothing left over for the hygiene supplies needed to protect themselves and their communities from the spread of the coronavirus.

How You Can Help

Kids Alive Kenya is gathering all available resources to address this crisis in our communities. We are seeking to raise the following for emergency programs:

- $7,500 to feed 50 families for three months; this includes porridge flour, rice, beans, oil, sugar, salt, and transport costs
- $8,800 for staff food allowances; these additional funds will be used to offset the dramatic increase in food prices for our team members
- $2,260 for COVID-related needs, such as personal protective equipment (PPE) and hygiene supplies for our residential homes and community families
- $7,280 for laptops and data costs; this will allow staff at all sites to work remotely and maintain connections with each other and with our students during school closures

These initiatives work to reduce malnutrition, prevent or minimize medical complications, provide for our KA-K team, and keep our ministries connected and productive.

This is a work we cannot accomplish alone, and we are grateful for your prayers and support.

Partnership with Kids Alive brings joy and purpose to many children that the world has forgotten.
